Mitch Murch's Maintenance Management Company (MMMM) received formal notification from the BSCAI (Building Service Contractors Association International) that MMMM was selected as the winner of the 2010 BSCAI Safety Award. MMMM has won this BSCAI award 15 out of the past 16 years! Jaclyn Kelly from BSCAI stated, "BSCAI is proud to recognize member companies like MMMM whose safety record furthers the reputation of the building service contractor industry as a whole." Some of the criteria used as part of this evaluation include number of lost time accidents, lost work hours, general liability losses, and number of vehicle accidents. MMMM will be recognized in BSCAI Services magazine and also their e-newsletter, Connections on their website. This award validates the conscientious and safe work ethic demonstrated every day by team members throughout MMMM as one of the safest companies in the cleaning industry.
